AVI-SPL to Exhibit at 2010 MACUL Conference

SMART Technologies Products on Display at AVI-SPL Booth 350

TAMPA, Fla. March 9, 2010 – AVI-SPL, the largest global integrator of audiovisual systems and services, today announced it will exhibit at the 2010 MACUL (Michigan Association for Computer Users in Learning) Conference March 10-12 at DeVos Place in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Exhibiting at Booth 350, AVI-SPL will spotlight SMART Technologies products including the SMART Table, SMART Board, SMART Symposium, SMART Document Camera, SMART Slate, SMART Classroom Suite software and SMART Response LE. Booth visitors can enter a drawing to win a SMART WS-200 Slate. A SMART Certified trainer will also be on-site each day to answer questions about the products.

“We look forward to showcasing the wide range of products and services AVI-SPL has to offer to the K-12 educational technology community,” said Len Radjewski, education market manager at AVI-SPL. “With two offices in Michigan (Grand Rapids area and metro Detroit), each with an Education Market Manager, we welcome the opportunity to discuss everything from complete systems integration to videoconferencing.”

According to the event web site, MACUL is dedicated to bringing educators from all levels together to share knowledge and concerns about educational uses of computers and technology. The conference, now in its 34th year, will host more than 3,000 educators for workshops, networking and more than 100 breakout sessions. Conference participants can attend innovative, technology-related programs and explore an extensive exhibit area which highlights hardware, software, computer-related materials and other educational technology.
